

Fall City Farms grows vegetables, pumpkins and cut flowers in Fall City. Our farm has been around since 1981 and has evolved and transformed many times since its inception. In the last four years, we have been working to develop a robust vegetable program. Our veggies are primarily sold through our CSA program. This year we will also be participating in a bi-weekly farmers market in Fall City. We also enjoy working with select restaurant wholesale accounts. In addition to veggies, we also maintain a pumpkin patch and a new cut flower program. Our pumpkin patch is a family tradition for many returning customers. We love connecting with our local communities. All of our produce, pumpkins and flowers are grown using organic farming practices. We take our role as stewards of the land seriously. We are Salmon-Safe Certified and are committed to sustainable practices that support the efforts to protect water quality and wildlife habitat on and around the farm.
